

PELHAM, N. H.

Miss Phyllis Atwood Bridesmaid at Roommate's Wedding—C. H. Muldoon Declines Assessor's Post.

Pelham, N. H., April 3.

Miss Phyllis Atwood, a senior at Keene Normal school, was one of four bridesmaids to Miss Frances Whitney, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Arthur B. Whitney of Quincy, Mass., at her marriage to Mr. Kenneth Tripp of Watertown last Saturday.

Miss Whitney and Miss Atwood have been room-mates at school for the past two and one-half years.

Miss Dorothy Ackerman of Derry, a junior at Keene Normal, was also a bridesmaid. She is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Ackerman, formerly Miss Grace Davis of this town. The ceremony took place at the Unitarian church in Quincy—the "church of presidents."

The bride's gift to each of her bridesmaids was a string of pearls.

The traditional bride's cake, mysteriously laden with tokens of prophetic import, was cut by the bride and served to her attendants. Miss Atwood's portion divulged, by token of prophecy, her early engagement, as a concealed diamond (?) ring was discovered within, while Miss Ackerman's share was found to contain a wedding ring and therefore (should such token hold true) she will become the first bride from among the attending bridesmaids.

Clarence H. Muldoon, elected as an assessor at town meeting to act with the selectmen in valuing real estate for annual assessment in April, declined to qualify, and Arthur H. Peabody was appointed to fill the vacancy. The selectmen, with Mr. Peabody and Forest E. Kelley, assessors, are now making the inventory.
