D. G. B. Burns, who has been re-elected master of Pelham grange, was at one time master of Derry grange. He has been tax collector of the town for five years, and came to Pelham 43 years ago. He has always lived in the Gumpers district, and has seen many changes in that time, more than 100 deaths having occurred in that part of the town. Mr. Burns has received loyal support on the part of his officers during the past year, all of them having been very regular in their attendance. It is an interesting fact that every meeting held during the past 12 months fell upon a pleasant night.
