

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Congregational church met Thursday afternoon, Jan. 3, in the Church Fellowship rooms. The program was in charge of Miss Frances Hobbs, who spoke interestingly of social action in the UN, and the various agencies devoted to helping the unfortunate. Rev. Alva Taylor presented a film on the work in a Roxbury church toward good relationship between the white and colored races in church association. Delicious refreshments were served from a pine and star decorated table by the hostesses, Mrs. Gladys Wiklund and Mrs. Anna Lyon.

Two huge cartons of good clothing were packed to be sent to the Hungarian relief. Also, a money donation was sent to the Red Cross for the emergency relief. The next meeting will be devoted to the Migrant Workers, a Congregational church project. Mrs. Neal Balcom heads this committee and has already purchased a basic layette. Anyone wishing to, may add to this with small articles, hoods, sweaters, booties, etc., which are needed to supplement this and make it a fine layette.
