

PELHAM, N. H.

Ladies' Aid of Congregational Church Holds Hallowe'en Party and Supper.

Pelham, N. H., Nov. 2.

The funeral services of Lucien Paquette of Salem, N. H., who died in that town Oct. 31, were held this morning at St. Patrick's church, Rev. T. C. Laughlin officiating. Mr. Paquette was 37 years, 6 months and 6 days of age and besides his wife, Josephine, he leaves two sons, Arthur and Eugene; his father and mother, and a sister, Mrs. Arthur Morneau, and two brothers, Ovilla Paquette of Salem, N. H. and Wilmer Paquette of Lowell. Burial was in the Gibson cemetery, the two brothers of the deceased and Arthur Morneau, Eugene Ricard, Adelard St. George and William Gariepy acting as bearers. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker Mahoney of Lawrence.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sidney F. Rowell at the Lowell General hospital last Thursday morning, Oct. 26.

Mrs. Charles H. Koehler and baby daughter are at home from the Shaw hospital, Lowell.

The Ladies' Aid of the Pelham Congregational church celebrated Hallowe'en with a harvest supper. A large number turned out to enjoy the bountiful supper. The committee in charge was Mrs. F. A. Greeley, Mary E. Hobbs, Mrs. Thomas Lewis and Alice Carleton. The banquet hall was effectively decorated with Hallowe'en emblems, autumn leaves, etc., by Mrs. Zena Woodbury and Mrs. May Sherburne. A special feature was the children's table and they were much delighted with Cinderella's pumpkin coach, the witches brewing their broth and the haunted house, so cleverly depicted by the decorating committee. The entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Louise Morris, Mrs. Emily Wood at the piano. There was a ghost parade and a pumpkin dance which was participated in by a good number of the young people. Harry Atwood jr. was the littlest ghost. Mrs. Ildie Hobbs read an appropriate story; Elizabeth Atwood recited "Little Orphan Prince" and all sang "Auld Lang Syne." The affair was a great success and the audience was well pleased. The men of the church acted as waiters, appropriately costumed and won deserved praise.

The Pelham Ladies' Club held a Hallowe'en party and dance at the town hall Tuesday evening. A good crowd attended and a Lowell orchestra furnished excellent music for the occasion.

A whist party by Pelham Grange was held at the town hall last night, affording much pleasure to those attending. Prizes were awarded as follows: First prize, silk stockings, George Muldoon; ladies' first, Mrs. Mabel Burton, a string of pearl beads; gaiters were awarded Miss Blanche Ducharme and Willis Hardy as consolation prizes.

Hillsboro County Pomona Grange met with Pelham Grange last Tuesday in all day session, with Worthy Master George Jaquith of New Ipswich, N. H., in the chair. There were 100 present. The fifth degree was held in the morning and an open session to all Grangers was much enjoyed in the afternoon. An excellent program was presented by Worthy Lecturer Mrs. Edwards of Mount Vernon, N. H. Dinner was served.
