

PELHAM, N. H.

Ladies Aid to Hold Harvest Supper Tomorrow Night— Former Local Resident Pays Flying Visit Here.

Pelham, N. H., Oct. 25.

The annual harvest supper under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society will be held at Pelham Congregational church this week Thursday night. Mrs. Zena B. Woodbury will have general charge of this annual event assisted by an able corps of co-workers. Following the supper an interesting program of entertainment will be presented, arranged by Ellis A. Robinson. See adv.

Miss Florence E. Hobbs is attending Lowell high school again after recovery from a tonsil operation at Lowell General hospital.

Mrs. Lillian Fish of Los Angeles, Calif., formerly of Pelham, flew to Washington, D. C., and then on to Boston last week where she was engaged in legal work for the law firm with which she is associated. She came to Pelham early Sunday morning and was taken to Unity by her uncle, C. W. Hobbs to visit her mother, Mrs. Ella A. Mann, who is recovering from a recent operation performed at Claremont hospital, later in the day traveling to Concord, N. H., to start on her return trip homeward, again by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cahill have bargained for the east end of the Company House, so-called, at Pelham Centre, owned by Miss Mary E. and Charles W. Hobbs.

Mrs. Ida Simpson who has occupied this tenement for several years is moving to rooms in the home of Mrs. Carrie E. Kent.
