

MARRIAGES.HILLMAN—FOSTER.

Beneath a bower richly decorated with silver rod, sumac and bitter sweet vine, Mr. Carl R. Hillman of Philadelphia and Miss Charlotte W. Foster of New Bedford were united in marriage at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Hillman, Pelham, N. H., at 12.30 p. m. last Saturday. Rev. Fletcher D. Parker of Boston, formerly the bride's pastor at New Bedford, was the officiating clergyman, using the Presbyterian single ring service.

The bride was attractively gowned in white georgette crepe embroidered with pearls. She wore a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Jeanette Fell of Philadelphia, wore pink taffeta silk and carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses. Mr. Harvey F. Hillman, the bridegroom's brother, of Cleveland, O., acted as best man.

Miss Foster is the daughter of Mr. Charles W. Foster of Grenloch, N. J. She is a graduate of the Domestic Arts department of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia. Following her graduation she became headworker of Yorth house, a settlement under the direction of the Friends of Philadelphia.

After two years of exceptionally efficient service with this institution, Miss Foster became executive secretary of the International Institute, directed by the Y. W. C. A. at New Bedford.

Mr. Hillman graduated from Pinkerton academy, Derry, N. H., in 1906 and from the University of Pennsylvania in 1911. He is now employed by the Curtis Publishing Co., of Philadelphia as advertising and copy writer.

Immediately following the ceremony the D. L. Page Co. served a delicious repast. Mr. and Mrs. Hillman left for a trip through the White Mountains by auto. They will return about Oct. 1 to Philadelphia, where they will reside.

Relatives and immediate friends of bride and bridegroom were present from Iowa, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New Jersey, Massachusetts and New Hampshire.
