

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Kasik

PELHAM, N. H.—Miss Patricia R. Greenwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Greenwood, of Gage Hill, and Walter J. Kasik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Kasik, of 225 Methuen street, Lowell, Mass., were united in marriage at 10 o'clock, August 4, in St. Patrick's church here. Rev. Cornelius Cahill, the pastor, performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass before an altar decorated with white gladioli.

Edward Walsh accompanied

Germain Bergeron who sang "Ave Maria," "Mother At Thy Feet Is Kneeling" and "Panis Angelicus."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a standing lace collar and the bouffant skirt terminated in a cathedral train bordered with chantilly lace. A headpiece of matching lace trimmed with seed pearls and sequins held in place her French illusion fingertip veil. She carried a prayer book covered with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Attends Sister

Mrs. Barbara Pierga attended her sister as matron of honor, wearing a pale pink crystalette dress of cocktail length with matching headpiece and gloves. She carried a cascade of pink briarcliff roses.

John McGrail, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were John Koczarski, cousin of the bridegroom, and Arthur E. Greenwood, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Marcia McGrail, sister of the bridegroom, attended the guest book at the reception which followed the wedding. The bride's mother wore a rose lace dress, pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige silk dress, beige accessories and a corsage of orchids.

The couple left later on a wedding trip to Maine, the bride wearing a green cotton dress with a full skirt and a scoop neckline and pink accessories. They are now living at Gage Hill, in Pelham.

The bride was educated at Pelham schools and was graduated from the Tenney school in Methuen. She is employed as a bookkeeper by the Forster lumber company, in Methuen. The bridegroom was educated in Dra-cut and Lowell schools. He is a member of the Polish-American Veterans, the American Legion and the Pulaski club. He served with the U. S. Army in Korea, and is now employed by the B. Neild plumbing and heating company.
