

Ethel A. Koehler Is
U. of N. H. Graduate

(Special to The Sun)

PELHAM, N. H., May 19—Miss Ethel O. Koehler, a graduate of local schools and Lowell high class of '39, graduated with honors at the University of New Hampshire, Durham, Sunday, with a B. S. degree in liberal arts. She majored in home economics with specialized work in hospital dietetics. Miss Koehler was treasurer of Psi Lambda, the honorary home economics society. She was also publicity manager of the Home Economics club.

Ethel A. Koehler

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Koehler, her sister, Miss Doris L. Koehler and grandmother, Mrs. Joseph A. Cahill, attended the graduation.

Grange Session

Pelham Grange will hold its regular meeting in the town hall tomorrow at 8 p. m. Following the business session, the Grange will sponsor its annual "children's night" for the children of Grange members. Program and refreshments are in charge of Helen Morris and Rita Jerome.

The regular services will be held Sunday at the Pelham Congregational church. These include Sunday school at 10 a. m. and morning worship at 11 a. m.

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire Congregational-Christian conference will be held at the Pilgrim church in Nashua, May 23, 24 and 25. The conference opens at 4 p. m. Sunday afternoon. Sunday evening there will be a service of worship with annual sermon and memorial and communion services. Several members plan to attend and all are welcome.