

PELHAM, N. H.

Pelham, N. H., Oct. 1.

Funeral services for Willis E. Pearson were held this afternoon at his home in Baldwin Hill. Rev. Claude E. Adams officiating. There were many flowers. Burial was in the Gibson cemetery in the Centre, Carl M. Mansfield, William D. Smith, Oscar Hirsch and Ernest G. Sherburne acting as bearers.

Mr. Pearson was a native of this town and during his life took great interest in school affairs, devoting much of his time to such work serving nearly 19 years as a member of the school board and having recently been elected to another three-year term.

He was also a member of Pelham Grange, serving that organization with the same devotion, during his long membership, and serving as master for four terms. His sudden death was a great shock to his townsmen and is deeply regretted.

An allotment of 2200 four-inch brook trout was recently received by the Belmont Fish and Game Club from the federal hatchery at Nashua. This club is an organization of Lawrence men, principally, who are interested in or own camps at Island pond, where the fish were planted.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hobbs and family are in Unity, N. H., visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reed.

Russell P. Richardson and Samuel E. Mann jr. are trucking lumber from Lyneboro mountain to Russell station where it is loaded on box cars. This is from a large lot recently operated by Messers brothers.
