PELHAM, N. H.

Pelham, N. H., Nov. 16.
The wind blew with terrific force here during the early hours this morning doing much damage to trees and buildings. One instance of the hurricane force of the gale occurred on Jeremy hill, near the lookout tower, at the residence of Oscar Hirsch where a new hen house of substantial size and structure was lifted from its foundation and carried for 20 feet where it was deposited roof side down, a mass of wreckage.

Hillary Gariepy and Harold Bigelow are at home for a Thanksgiving vacation from Detroit, Mich.
Sheffield H. Lyon of this town suffered a serious accident last Friday afternoon at his home when engaged in loading hay, by losing his balance and falling head foremost to the barn floor. He was removed to the Lowell General hospital where examination showed that he had sustained a fractured skull, necessitating an operation, which was performed Saturday noon. This afternoon he is still unconscious although his physicians state there is an even chance for his recovery.

The death recently of Gardner W. Sherburne, a native of this town, was deeply regretted by his townsmen. Mr. Sherburne, pleasantly reserved in disposition, was one of a stalwart type of old New England characters, respected and admired by all who, at any time in life, had associated with him.

Miss Helen Titcomb was called home from Keene Normal school last Thursday on account of the serious illness of her grandmother, Mrs. James O. Titcomb.
The Misses Marjorie and Marian Atwood and Miss Ethel L. Norris are at home from Keene Normal for a week's vacation.
