MARRIED AT HISTORIC CHURCH

The historic “Worsted Church” in Canterbury N. H. was the scene of a charming wedding Saturday July 23 when Miss. Elizabeth F. Hyde, daughter of Mrs. Estelle Hyde Richardson of Pelham N. H. became the bride of Mr. Carl H. Moulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Moulton of Underhill, Vt.

The Episcopal double ring service was used by the Rev. Melvin J. Allen of Boscawen, former pastor of the church at Pelham. Lohengren and the Roymond and Mendelsohn wedding marches were played by a friend of the family. Miss Vera Hyde, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Miss Emma Moulton, sister of the groom and Miss Pearl Rideout were brides maids. Mr. James Montgomery, a friend of the groom who was in military school and over seas with him, was best man. Mr. G. N. Kirkley gave the bride away.

Wild flowers were carried by the bride and her attendants, and the church was decorated with them in memory of the bride’s father, the late Edward Hyde, M. D. of Pelham, who was an enthusiastic botanist and author of “Mosses and Lichens of New Hampshire,” a reference book used in colleges.

The bride’s dress was white canton crepe and duchess lace embroidered in rope silk, and white beads. She wore a white tulle veil. The maid of honor was attired in rose georgette, the bridesmaids in Harding blue satin and white georgette. The mother of the bride wore crepe de chine with trimmings of henna; the mother of groom, white net over white satin.

The wedding party motored to the church from the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Kirkley and Mrs. Marcia Lovejoy in Northfield, N. H. After the ceremony the party returned to Northfield where a buffet lunch was served by the hostesses.

After a bridal trip through northern New Hampshire and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Moulton will leave New England for their new home at Port Deposit, Maryland, where Mr. Moulton is employed as a chemist. The bride is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College, the groom of Middlebury College, and both have many friends who wish them happiness.
