The Marriage of Walter J. Harwood and Miss Bertha A. Lewis at the Congregational Church.

(Special Correspondence.)

Pelham, N. H., Sept. 10.

A beautiful fall wedding took place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Congregational church at Pelham when the marriage of Miss Bertha A. Lewis to Mr. Walter J. Harwood was announced by Rev. J. L. Hyde of Brooklin, Mass., formerly of this town.

The bride is a native of this town and has spent her life here. Mr. Harwood is from Hudson, N. H. The young couple are both well known and very popular, and the pretty country church was well filled with guests, nearly 240 being present. The church was charmingly decorated by Charles Black of Nashua, assisted by young friends of the bride. Palms and a beautiful arch wedding hall of gold and red formed a charming setting for the ceremony. The double ring service was used, Mr. E. L. Kiernan, pastor of Nashua, the bridegroom presented his host a gold piece and the others received gold tie clips.

The board of education of the city of Nashua has ordered the schools closed for a period of two weeks ending Sept. 25, on account of infantile paralysis. This order affects about 20 pupils of this town attending high school there.

Alice E. Wood has purchased a four-passenger Ford touring car.

The freshman class at Nashua high school includes the following pupils from Pelham: Chester Morris, Virla Burton, Lilian Calvert, Dorothy Atwood, Grace Lewis, Alice Mann and Julia Threlkeld. Benjamin Jacobwitz and Ruby Guild, who successfully passed the examination for entrance there, last June, will not attend.

Miss Susan M. Smith, who was removed to St. Joseph's hospital last Thursday is reported as resting very comfortably. Her hip has been put into a plaster cast and her shoulder feels much better. She was visited by her sister, Miss Caroline Smith, and Mrs. James Wyman this afternoon.

Mrs. Eunice L. Hyde returned Thursday from Wayne, N. J., where she had been spending a week with relatives. On the way home she made a short visit with Mrs. Angeline Kent, former of this town, at their home in nails for the Abyssinian Missionary Society.

The bride's gift to her maid of honor was a gold piece and to her bridesmaids gold ingot tie clips. The bridegroom presented his host a gold piece and the others received gold tie clips.
